William Augustus Bowles

The BILLY BOWLEGS' FESTIVAL has William Augustus Bowles, a notorious old boy, as its patron pirate. He arrived in what was to become Florida's Playground Area in 1778 when the Spanish, English and Americans were maneuvering for control of the Gulf shores and its shipping lanes. Believing himself destined to command instead of obeying orders, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs gathered a force of a "couple hundred plundering Indians, relics from the American Army and white banditti" a rollicking piratical crew which grew to be the concern of all three of the power-hungry countries. Cap'n Bowlegs (Bowles) created his own throne and the three nations considered everything from murder to a general's commission to get him on the right side. Financed by loot from a Spanish ship and surrounded by a handful of Indians, Cap'n Billy invaded English society for support. He was rewarded with a flag of "English and Indian colors mixed", a silver pipe, a tomahawk, a chain of friendship and trade supplies with which, he formed the State of Muskogee. The Spanish enticed him to New Orleans and there grabbed the new head of state. He was then shipped out to Madrid, Spain, and then to the Philippines, but he jumped ship and returned to his "state" and greater deeds of piracy. He raided on the Gulf and on its shores. His schooners flew his pirate flag except when they switched to the British flag to claim their "salvaged" loot at international ports but all "good" pirates must have an end; and Cap'n Bowlegs' came after he was lured to peace talks in the presence of Spanish, American and British agents where he was seized. The Spanish paid their disenchanted Indians a reward and took poor ol' Cap'n Bowlegs to Morro Castle.... there, in 1803, he starved himself to death rather than to "sink so low as to speak to the Cuban general"!

History of the Festival

... The Krewe of Bowlegs grew out of a Labor Day ski show celebration in 1953, which was the brainchild of some enterprising young businessmen, the JAYCEES, eager to latch onto a project that would warrant their time and efforts and bring more tourists into the area. The idea of a Gasparilla-type observance centered on a "pirate" theme, with the notorious and legendary WILLIAM AUGUSTUS BOWLES as their patron pirate - a pirate of controversial authenticity whose alleged dastardly deeds were widespread throughout the Playground area... NATHAN FLEET was the first Cap'n Billy Bowlegs. (In later years, his son, Judge ERWIN FLEET, reigned as Bowlegs XIV).

The overwhelming success and acceptance of the initial celebration sparked great enthusiasm and interest among other young businessmen of the community. A small group of area merchants, of which two, together with two from the JAYCEES, were secretly delegated to choose from the member list the Billy Bowlegs as reigning pirate of the three-day fiesta, his identity to remain unknown until the unmasking ceremonies took place on the evening of the grand ball, the ball highlighting the festival activities. The first such honor under organized and recognized jurisdiction went to ROGER CLARY, a civic-minded businessman and then Chamber of Commerce president.

An early program of Billy Bowlegs' events reads, "While still in its rudimentary stage, the Billy Bowlegs Festival seems destined to become another Florida attraction second to none in beauty and cooperative fellowship. We predict that impetus born of the Krewe of Bowlegs will add additional miracles to the Miracle Strip.".... thus, due to the overwhelming popularity of the festival, events were added such as, treasure hunts for children, parades, bigger and more elaborate pirate landing ceremonies, gigantic fireworks displays and more athletic events. Also, over the years, costumes have become more elaborate, professional floats have been added to the Grand Torchlight Parade, a glittering Coronation Pageant, open to the public, at which a new Cap'n Billy, his queen, first mate and ten honor guard are unmasked, with a private ball and midnight breakfast for Krewe members and honored guests, climaxes the now week-long festival.

The late DOCIE BASS, Cap'n Billy IV, was the first to choose his queen from the membership of the Krewe. (Up until that time, queens had been "captive wenches" and beauty contest winners). We quote again from an early program ... "The cream of Southern loveliness, suh, beautiful pirate wenches, captured in daring raids on cities from New Orleans to Miami ... the bevy of lovelies will sail into town with the pirate flotilla. Cap'n Billy choses his queen because of a variety of things: beauty, gentleness, beauty, talent, beauty - oh, well, you get the idea."

. . . . and the Krewe

CAROL DUNCAN, who was Cap'n Billy Bowlegs IX, Wilson Minger's queen, was the first to wear a formal type gown for the Coronation. Carol still has this pink & silver gown which she made herself, keeping the gown and her own identity as queen a secret from her husband. (FINLEY DUNCAN, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs V). Previous queens had worn shorts costumes, most also made by "their own hands". ELLA CLARY, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs X, Dr. HENRY C. WHITE's queen, was the first to have a separate Queen's Float in the parade. All past-queens belong to an organization known as the "Society of Queens". Among other things, they sponsor an annual punch party for graduating senior girls of Krewe members. These girls are "presented at court" during the Coronation Pageant each year.

Up until 1970, the coronation ceremonies had been on a rather small informal scale. JIM KENDRICK, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs XVI, conceived the present elaborate Coronation Pageant as we now know it, inviting the general public to join with the Krewe in the evening's entertainment.

Hours of volunteered time and sizeable sums of money (all Krewe events are paid for from Krewe annual membership dues) are expended each year on colorful floats, impressive decorations and gaily colored costumes used by the Krewe during the parade, pageant and ball. The beautiful floats which the masked Krewe ride, allow the members to throw showers of souvenir trinkets and coins to the thousands lining the parade route. Each year's Cap'n Billy is selected by secret ballot; he, in turn, chooses his queen, first mate and court.

As the TWENTY-SIXTH year draws to a close, Captain Billy Bowlegs XXVI, WALT RUCKEL, his Queen, DONNA TRUM, First Mate, FRANK FISHER, and his faithful band of ten pirates and wenches, the Honor Guard, plot their course for one last celebration before "surrendering" the good ship, BLACKHAWK, to a worthy successor, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs XXVII and his own hand-picked pirate raiders.

Having circled the globe for the past year on land, the seas and in the air, they finally found that one perfect spot on earth, FANTASY ISLAND - a place where all things are possible; a place where all dreams come true! The trusty first mate gathered up the motley krewe and their wenches, their entertainers merry, and set sail aboard the BLACKHAWK for Fantasy Island where Cap'n Billy and his queen, who had just flown in on FLIGHT 26, and new-found-friend, TATOO, awaited their quests with tropical flowers, a long, cool one and the power to grant fantasies beyond their imagination... To our dear guests, may we be your hosts once again for the pageantry of the Bowlegs' Coronation.
