HISTORY of the » »

The BILLY BOWLEGS' FESTIVAL grew out of a Labor Day ski show celebration back in 1953, which was the brainchild of some enterprising young businessmen, the JAYCEES, eager to latch onto a project that would warrant their time and efforts, be fun and bring tourists into the area. The idea of a Gasparilla-type observance centered on a pirate theme and they were unanimous in their choice of the notorious and legendary WILLIAM AUGUSTUS BOWLES as their patron pirate ... a pirate of controversial authenticity whose alleged, dastardly deeds were widespread throughout what is now known as the PLAYGROUND AREA.

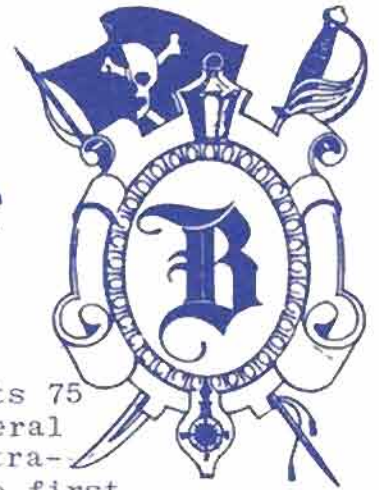

The overwhelming success of the initial celebration sparked great enthusiasm and interest in all the townspeople and a small group of merchants, together with the JAYCEES, were secretly delegated to choose from its membership a Cap'n Billy Bowlegs as reigning pirate of the then three-day fiesta, his identity to remain unknown until the unmasking ceremonies took place on the evening of the grand ball. The late NATHAN FLEET, a downtown retail merchant at that time, was chosen as the first Cap'n Billy Bowlegs to reign over the festival and lead the pirate raids. He played his role so well, he was asked again the following year to lead the pirate krewel!

During the festival, races are held, tournaments played, arts and crafts displayed, frisbees thrown, boats paraded, bands play, square dancers kick up their heels, the small fry fish and the gaily costumed pirates' Krewe lands again on the beautiful white sands of Northwest Florida. The city is duly "captured" and the "Jolly Roger" is hoisted to signify the total surrender of the city! There is fun for the entire family, with treasure hunts for the children as well as for grownups ... and a treasure map to help with the search. Over the years, more and more professional floats have been added to the Grand Torchlight Parade and a glittering Coronation Pageant, open to the public at no charge, is held at which a new Cap'n Billy, his Queen, a First Mate and his lady, ten Honor Guard couples and children of the court are unmasked. The Coronation Pageant is followed by a private ball and midnight breakfast for Krewe members and their honored guests. Thus a tradition was born: the BILLY BOWLEGS' FESTIVAL, with the infamous KREWE OF BOWLEGS and reigning Cap'n Billy as the "star" of the show!

Last year, a new organization, ROYAL ORDER OF TORY, joined the BILLY BOWLEGS' FESTIVAL - a family-orientated organization with many events planned for the younger set, including a treasure hunt and afternoon parade. Each year the festival grows with more events, more participants and a bigger audience!

FESTIVAL and KREWE

An early souvenir program and guide (1957), lists 75 Krewe members, seven of which are still members. Several sons of original Krewe members are now carrying on a tradition started by their fathers. ROGER CLARY was the first Cap'n Billy under organized charter. Current Krewe membership is 170, plus former Cap'n Billys who automatically become members of the SOCIETY OF BOWLEGS, otherwise affectionately known as the SOB's! Membership in the Krewe is limited by the Constitution and By-Laws of the Krewe and there is always a waiting list. Hours of volunteered time and talent, plus sizeable sums of money are expended by Krewe members and their wives each year on colorful floats, beautiful decorations and custom-made costumes worn by the Krewe during the parade, pageant and ball. The "theme" floats which the masked Krewe ride, allow the members to throw showers of souvenir trinkets and "gold" doubloons to the thousands lining the parade route. (ALL KREWE EVENTS ARE PAID FOR FROM KREWE ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP DUES - they receive NO funding from any other source). Each year Cap'n Billy is selected by secret ballot; he, in turn, chooses his Queen, First Mate and ten-man Honor Guard and children of the court - their identity a closely guarded secret!

Although the Krewe of Bowlegs is an all-male social club, their ladies are invited to join in most of the festivities. The past queens belong to an organization known as the SOCIETY OF QUEENS. Among other things, they sponsor an annual punch party for graduating senior girls, daughters and/or granddaughters of Krewe members. These girls are presented at Cap'n Billy's court during the Coronation Pageant each year. In colorful costumes, they also assist the pirates during their annual raid on the city. Graduating senior daughters and sons of Krewe members are also invited to attend the private, annual Coronation Ball.

Tonight, with southern charm, courtly manners and a great deal of determination, Cap'n Billy Bowlegs XXX, his First Mate and motley Krewe, sip a final mint julip and wave "goodbye" to Spanish Moss, emerald waters and snow white sands, lazy Southern nights ... and GRITS! ... and again set out on their annual search for worthy successors - from the mighty Mississippi, the beautiful Ohio, the Great Lakes and o'er the vast oceans of the world, they finally arrive in what they think to be a quaint little bay - NEW YORK HARBOR!

... and so begins their year of revelry along Broadway in that glamorous city affectionately known as THE BIG APPLE. Please settle back and get comfortable as we open the BLACKHAWK's Log to log another magical journey. We invite you to share in an evening of song and dance from some of your favorite Broadway shows, climaxed by the unmasking of Cap'n Billy Bowlegs XXXI, his Queen and Court.

"Billy Bowlegs"

William Augustus Bowles

Billy Bowlegs, patron pirate of the Billy Bowlegs' Festival, was born William Augustus Bowles in 1763 on the Maryland frontier. The first child of Thomas and Eleanor Bowles, he and his family were Loyalists who sided with the British during the American Revolutionary War and Billy, as a young man of sixteen, found himself a commissioned ensign in the British Navy. After the war, he was ordered to a British regiment in Pensacola, Florida, where, upon insulting a superior officer (so the legend goes), he rebelled against military life and went into hiding with the Creek Indians who lived in most of Southeastern and North Florida areas.

The British, however, welcomed him back when it was learned that he had married a chief's daughter and placed him in a position to fight the Spaniards around Florida.

Again this rebel without a country was hunted; only this time he went into hiding from the Spanish. Somehow he came up with a brilliant idea that would not only ensure his safety but that of his Indian connections and his Creek family in-laws. Along with various chiefs he formed the State of Muskogee (South-eastern States) and called for the independence of this new country.

When the Spanish took over the town of Pensacola by means of a mutual treaty with England, the rebellious Bowles was invited to discuss the new situation of a Spanish Florida and his new Indian State. Though Bowlegs had been warned, he fell into a trap set by the Spaniards and was sent in chains to Madrid, Spain. The years passed slowly for the pirate in his dank cell, but he was finally released and shipped to the Spanish Phillipines to work for the New Empire. Somehow, Billy arranged passage on a Spanish ship, and as it rounded the Cape of Good Hope, he instigated a mutiny. It failed, but he again escaped to the British Colony of Sierra Leone, where he impressed the governor so much that he was sent as a hero to London.

There the pretender was offered a job as the head of a trading company that was to deal with the Indians of his homeland, and a British trading firm sent him back to his Florida hideaway. In the end the whole idea fell apart and Billy Bowlegs again dreamed of an independent country on the Gulf coast. He then organized a small Muskogee ragtag group of Indians and wanted white men and called it his army. Next came his navy of a few small ships or sloops. Billy's band of men attacked the fort at St. Marks in Apalachee Bay, and his raiding ships also menaced the coastal waters.

By the age of 42 he became a hunted man who was wanted by all the nations. Finally he was captured at an Indian pow-wow that was taking place among most of the Southeastern tribes.

Again he almost escaped his American captors, but his own adopted Indians hunted him down in the swamps of Choctawhatchee Bay. Billy was turned over to the Spanish who were more than happy to get the pirate raider out of Florida.

After the capture of this roving buccaneer whose headquarters was finally located at Wekiwa, the Spaniards were in for an even greater surprise when they invaded Billy Bowleg's home. The house of the pirate amazed the men who threw open its doors. His home contained a fantastic library including works of Milton, Moliere and Boileau, not to mention books on physics, algebra, art and painting, and dictionaries of French, Spanish and English.

The shackled pirate was sent to New Orleans and there the Spanish moved him to Morro Castle at the entrance to Havana Bay. Again he heard the dungeon door slam behind him ... but this time, it would be forever!

There are different reports as to how he died. One account is that the Spaniards fed him only oranges for forty days and he finally starved to death! Still another story claims that when the cell door closed so did all sustenance of life, and, if it did come, it was spiked with poison. The thought of the rest of his life in chains also gave rise to the speculation that he may have taken his own life ... whatever happened to Billy Bowlegs was not worth remembering to the people of that period, for he has no grave. To the Fort Walton/Destin area, however, he left a heritage of pirate tales of great adventure and buried treasure ... and maybe, just maybe, once a year during FESTIVAL WEEK the ghost of Cap'n BILLY BOWLEGS comes to join in the fun along our beautiful Emerald Coast!
